

Commitment Agreement for group 6 - KeaKit:

I, Samuel Tamayo Balogh, upon joining the course Ingeniería de Software y Práctica Profesional (ISPP) for the 2025–26 academic year, commit to meeting the following requirements and conditions as an active member of the working group:

- Time Commitment: I commit to dedicating 10 hours per week to the activities and tasks assigned within the scope of the course, including class attendance.
- Effort: I commit to voluntarily leaving the group so as not to hinder its progress if my effort does not reach at least 50% of what is required.
- Task Completion: I commit to completing my assigned tasks on time, especially in cases where failing to meet my responsibilities could result in my teammates needing to work outside the agreed working hours.
- Time Tracking: I commit to recording the time spent on each task using the tool defined by the team (e.g. Clockify), providing the necessary level of detail for each task as required.
- Contribution: I commit to contribute at least once a week in any form to the project with “tangible” increments (documentation, code, organization matters...).
- Asymmetric Grading in Deliverables (in case of overload caused by non-compliance): I acknowledge that if, in any deliverable, some tasks are not completed due to insufficient dedication of hours, and this causes an additional workload in hours and tasks for another person, an asymmetric distribution of the deliverable grade may be applied among the students involved, reflecting each person’s actual contribution and the extra effort required to compensate for the missing work.
- Attendance: I commit to attend at least one meeting per week, being it with the group or the subgroup assigned to me; this may not be considered if sufficient proof is presented (medical urgencies/treatments, reasonable cause...). The validity of such proof is up to the whole group and always regarding the rules dictated by the University of Seville.

By signing this document, I understand and accept the responsibilities assigned to me and commit to fulfilling them as established herein.
